Steps to a SUCCESSFUL SHOW

Thank you for setting a date for your L'BRI Show. Let's have a fun time by pampering you and your guests. It's easy! Follow these simple steps, and I'll do the rest!

Contact the special people you want to invite

- Make a list of everyone you think would like to discover L'BRI. Even if they live too far away to attend, they can still place an order or book a Show of their own to add to the success of your Show.
- Send a "save the date" text message right away and copy me. You can say, "I've just discovered L'BRI natural skin care and can't wait to share it with you! Save (insert day, date & time of your Show)."
- Please send your guest list to me by _____.
- Personally call those you are inviting and share your excitement. Tell them it won't be as much fun without them. They are twice as likely to attend when they hear the enthusiasm in your voice. Share with them what you love about L'BRI – It's pure and natural; it's aloe vera based; it's affordable and effective!
- Send your invitation reminders. (I can send them for you or help you get them out.)

Create your wish list

- You may want to write down all the products you'd like to get for having your Show.
- I will do everything I can to help you get them ALL!

Remind your friends

- Check to see who has replied. You can resend the reminders or send a text to those who have not replied.
- Encourage those who can't come to your Show to get together with me for a private facial; to book a L'BRI Show of their own; or to place an order toward your Show. They can view a L'BRI product catalog or contact me with any questions.
- About 1-2 days before your Show, call those who are planning to attend and let them know you are excited to see them. Encourage them to bring a guest or two with them.

One more gift for you!

- By having 8 or more guests with individual orders at your L'BRI Show, you will receive a 5-piece professional makeup brush set, a $40 value for FREE!

Refreshments

- Keep your snacks simple and serve them after the presentation.

Again, thank you so much for planning your L'BRI Show. I'm very excited to meet your guests and pamper them at your Show. We'll have a great time!

GUEST LIST

for Hostess: _____ Show Date: _____

Build your attendance by inviting F R A N K. This will help you think of people you know from 5 different groups Friends, Relatives, Acquaintances (church, gym, clubs, etc.), Neighbors and Kids (people you know through your kids such as teachers, parents, coaches, etc.). If a group does not apply to you, invite more people from another group. Also invite people who may want to learn more about the L'BRI income opportunity.

Invite your guests within the next 5 days, so they can save the date. By just calling 5 people a day for 5 days, you will have invited 25 people. Invite each guest personally, so they know they are important to you. Encourage them to bring friends.
